

Kings of Leon cancel rest of U.S. tour after 'exhausted' Caleb Followill abandons bandmates at Dallas concert

 Kings of Leon today cancelled the remainder of their U.S. tour.

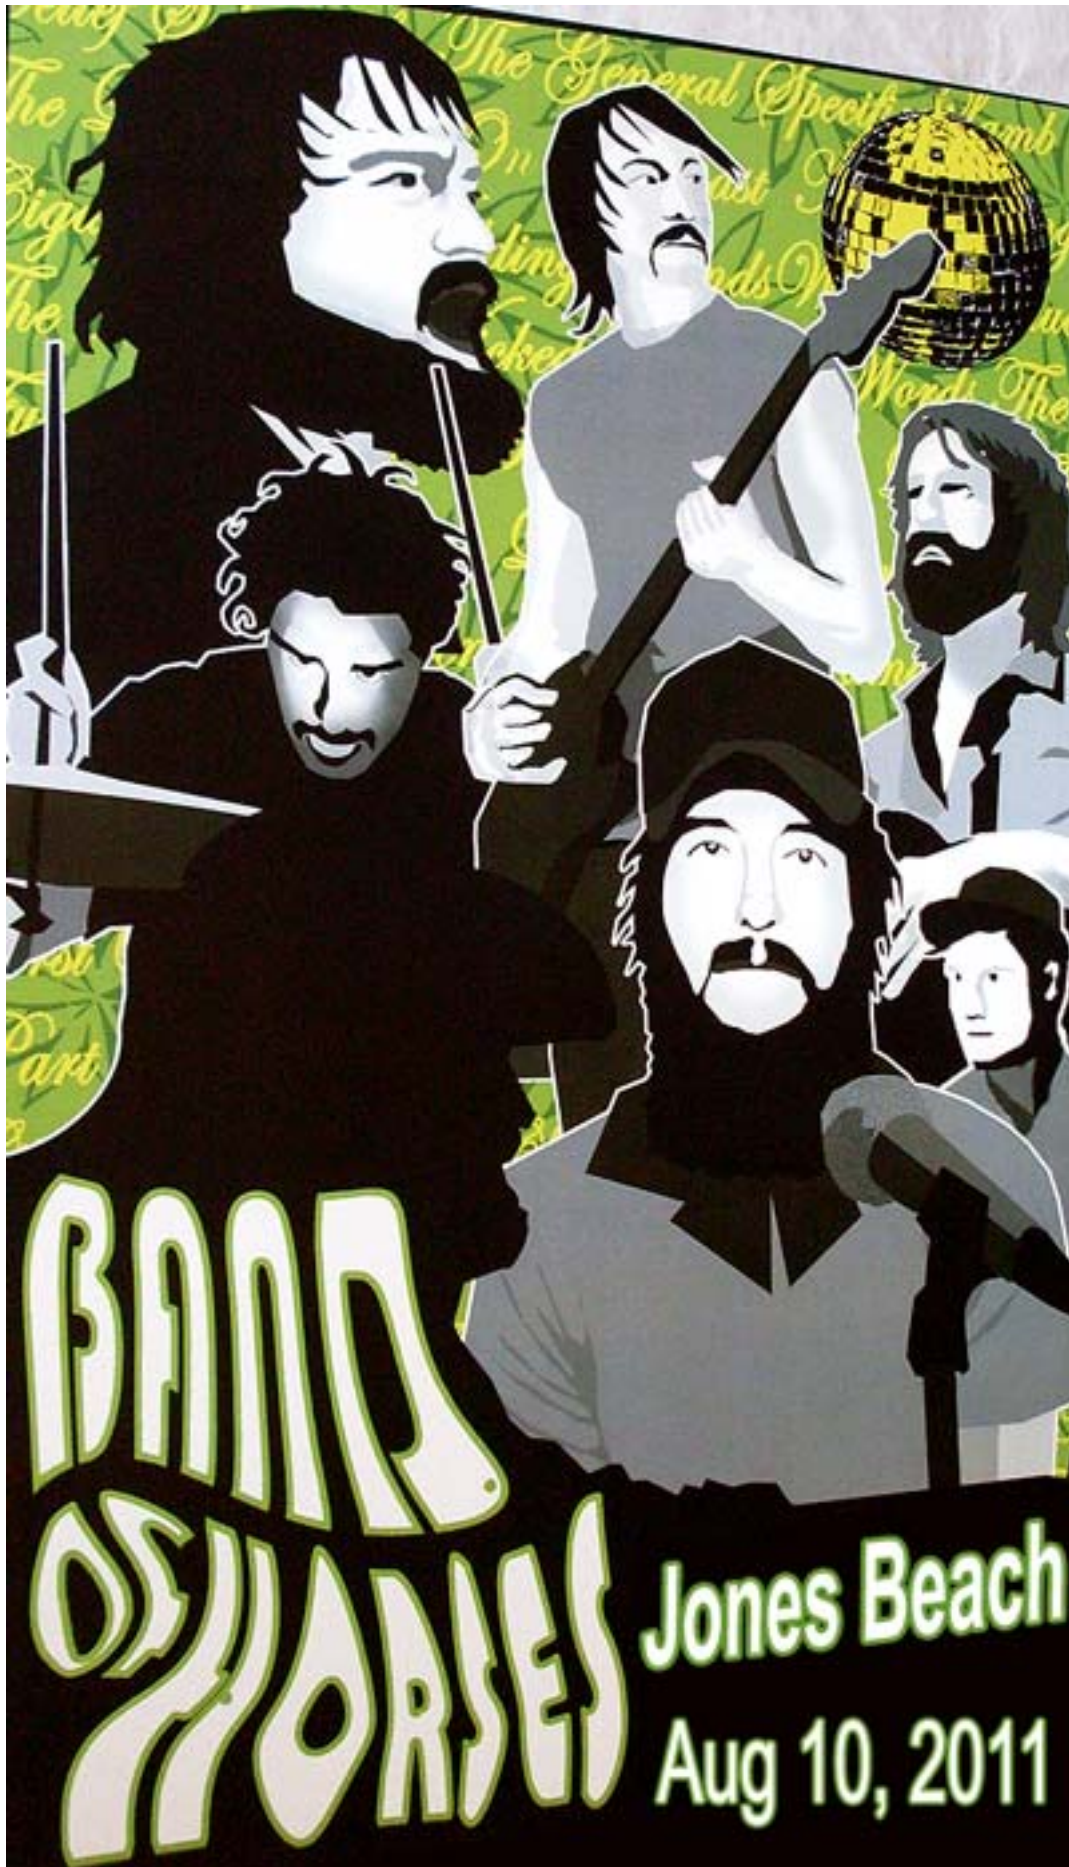

A statement released by the rock band claims the lead singer Caleb Followill, who recently married Victoria's Secret model Lily Aldridge, is suffering from 'exhaustion'.

It comes four days after he angered fans in Dallas by abruptly walking out mid-concert because it was 'too hot.'

A string of tweet by the band after Friday night's disastrous performance hinted at mounting disharmony between the group.
