Following three successful tours across the world, the COUNTING CROWS return to the road with SANTANA and promises fans an unforgettable show filled with their timeless hits, including music off their most recent project "Butter Miracle, Suite One".](#)

In addition to the tour, Santana, 75, will continue his ongoing residency at Las Vegas' House of Blues. As of now, he has 24 gigs lined up in Sin City from May through November this year.

Last year, the 76-year-old Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee made noteworthy remarks at a concert... While onstage, he stated that there are only two genders, saying "a woman is a woman and a man is a man — that's it." which is biological fact. He added "Whatever you wanna do in the closet, that's your business. I'm OK with that." Although most people agree with him, According to Billboard, Santana later apologized for his "insensitive comments," saying that "I realize that what I said hurt some people and that was not my intent."

Santana received nine Grammy Awards for 1999's "Supernatural" including Album of the Year and Record of the Year for "Smooth."
